NEED FOR THE PRESIDENT.

THE controversy started by the ill-timed Lansdowne letter threatens to assume large proportions and to attain a bitterness that will not be conducive to the solidarity so necessary to victory. According to a special dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle, Lansdowne is by no means by himself in his stand. The line-up for and against him is not being made along party lines, Liberals standing against Liberals and Unionists against Unionists. It is the chief topic in and out of official circles and everyone is wondering what the next development will be. President Wilson is quoted by both sides to prove their points. The anti-Lansdowne forces insist that Wilson has committed America to the famous "knock out" policy of Lloyd George. The moderates backing Lansdowne declare that the president's attitude is exactly that of the Lansdowne letter. Correspondent Arthur Draper predicts: "Soon the president will need to make a fresh declaration of policy," and adds: "Naturally Lansdowne's reference to freedom of the seas arouses considerable animosity, just as did Wilson's observation to the same effect in his first peace message." It must be understood that the supporters of Lansdowne are not pacifists in the sense that Ramsay MacDonald and Snowden, who in England have demanded peace from the start of the war, or of our own Scott Nearings and La Follette, who would "force" a peace now. An entirely new element has entered the field in Great Britain. They are moderates, not peace-at-any-price advocates, and they consider it essential to use diplomacy as well as military force, and believe that there is a similar body working to the same ends in Germany. They accept the president's distinction between the German people and the system, and consider the best method to end the system is to enlist the help of the German moderates. The powerful Manchester Guardian says:

"If Germany took an attempt to make our position clear as a sign of weakness, she would soon find out her mistake, for our armies would fight the better and our people would go forward with clearer resolutions. As for the time chosen, any time, it seems to us, is a good time for rational action and for the clearing up of the error. We have suffered too long from timid reluctance to face facts and to declare in terms all men can understand the precise purpose of our policy and the things we want and do not want. This is no sign of courage or statesmanship—it is the obfuscation of state, faltering diplomacy. As for the Paris conference, America is represented there. America at least is no friend to disguise and reticence. She has come into the war for the great and noble ends of human welfare and her honor's sake. She, at least, will not refuse to show her hand, whatever hide-bound diplomatists may say. She will insist on showing it and demand no less of her allies."

CLEAN UP OR QUIT!

THE Casino bar is winning for itself an unsavory reputation, to put it mildly. On top of the disgraceful rows that are permitted there comes the report that its proprietor came to the aid of a man who had most foully insulted the Stars and Stripes and helped the disloyalist unmercifully beat the man who protested. Of fights and man-handling the Casino has had a good deal more than its share; Proprietor Silva goes his way with a mistaken idea of security. The commissioners should give him the alternative of cleaning up—and cleaning up quickly—or losing his license. The Bonanza makes that statement without reservation. It is manifestly the commissioners' duty to put it up squarely to this fellow Silva: "Mend your ways or lose your license!"

The Casino proprietor called at this office last night and had a policeman for a bodyguard. The editor still lives today, he being one that Silva has not beaten up.

GAG THEM.

ONLY the stupidest fool attacks the Stars and Stripes nowadays. If there can be a stupider one, he is one who praises the kaiser before Americans. There is no room for such in Tonopah. The bulk of German-American citizens are loyal to the United States; the loud-mouthed fanatical minority put all of them in bad light. They should join with their fellow citizens in effectually gagging the disloyal anti-Americans and insist that they be made to carry Old Glory and then kneel and kiss the Stars and Stripes in public on a public thoroughfare.

AMERICA'S PART.

THE statement of Chairman Hurley of the shipping board that 583 ships, totalling 721,000 tons, now form the communication lines to France gives one some idea of the magnitude of America's part in the war—some idea of the huge amounts of food and munitions and the large forces of soldiers we are sending overseas. Of the many stupid things said by Germany's junkers, the one that the United States' participation would be no great help to the allies is perhaps the stupidest.

$766,000,000 INCREASE IN U. S. EXPORTS DURING MONTH OF OCT.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—October exports of $542,900,000 reported by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, brought the total for the ten months to $5,148,000,000, an increase of $706,000,000 over the corresponding period in 1916. The October figures exceeded those for September by $28,000,000.

Imports of $221,000,000 in October showed a decrease of $15,000,000 as compared with the preceding month, but the ten months' total of $2,504,000,000 exceeded those of the first ten months of 1916 by $494,000,000. The decrease for October was explained by the fact that 76 per cent of the imports for that month were duty free.

Government restrictions resulted in a large decrease in the exports of gold in October, the total being $11,000,000, against $31,000,000 in September. Gold imports for the month were $1,000,000, approximately the same as in September.

Gold exports for the ten months of this year totalled $360,000,000, as against $101,000,000 for the same period in 1916, while gold imports in 1917 were $532,000,000, against $480,000,000 during the first ten months of the previous year.

Silver imports amounted to $5,000,000 in October and to $38,000,000 for the ten months, while the exports of silver were valued at $7,000,000 for the single month and at $69,000,000 for the 10-month period.

MONTANA FOLK SEEING THINGS.

(By Associated Press.)

MISSOULA, Mont., Dec. 4.—Montana residents who have been reporting a mysterious airplane flying about the country at night are wondering if they really did see a machine, or were the victims of a hallucination. Dr. F. C. Smith, professor of psychology at the University of Montana here, is responsible for raising the doubts.

"If a person really believes he sees a thing that doesn't exist he is the victim of a hallucination," was Dr. Smith's explanation of the "airplane scare." "It is the power of suggestion, and it is brought on by the war and the material thoughts that are uppermost in the minds of the American people."

ONE KIND OF HOARDING.

(By Associated Press.)

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 4.—Some kinds of food hoarding are all right, according to R. F. Bicknell, federal food commissioner for Idaho, and H. W. Hochbaum, state leader of county farm agents. They have started a movement to introduce the people of the state to buy and store apples and potatoes against the winter's needs.

Lack of transportation facilities has left quantities of apples and potatoes in the hands of growers. The campaign will be carried on by the sixteen field men of the University of Idaho extension department.

HOUSE ADDRESSES WAR CONFERENCE

INTER-ALLIED MEETING IS ADJOURNED; GREAT RESULTS FOR FUTURE ASSURED.

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 4.—The inter-allied war conference was closed yesterday with a brief address by Col. E. M. House, chairman of the American mission. Colonel House, who delivered the closing address at the request of Premier Clemenceau, said: "M. Clemenceau, the president of the French council, in welcoming the delegates to this conference, declared that we had met to work. His words were prophetic. There has been co-ordination and a unity of purpose which promise great results for the future. It is my deep conviction that by this unity and by concentrated effort we shall be able to arrive at the goal which we have set out to reach."

"In behalf of my colleagues, I want to avail myself of this occasion to thank the officials of the French government and the French people for the warm welcome and great consideration they have shown us. In coming to France we have felt that we were coming to the house of our friends. Ever since our government was founded there has been a bond of interest and sympathy between us—a sympathy which this war has fanned into a passionate admiration. The history of France is a history of courage and sacrifice. Therefore, the great deeds which have illuminated the last three years have come as no surprise to us of America. We knew that when called upon France would rise to a splendid achievement and would add lustre to her name.

"America salutes France and her heroic sons and feels honored to fight by the side of so gallant a comrade."

AIRPLANE LINES ALONG LINCOLN HIGHWAY ROUTE

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Plans are already afoot for the extension of aeronautic activities following the war. Numerous manufacturers are making preparations in this connection, upon the theory that highways in the air will be as necessary to the commercial interests of the country as the Lincoln highway and other through trans-continental routes of travel are to the truck and pleasure automobile of the present time.

Orville Wright of Dayton has been quoted in this connection to the following effect: "After the war flying will become safe, popular and comparatively cheap. As soon as the war is over I expect to see the whole country mapped out with aerial highways. Along these routes, say every seven miles, there will be alighting stations and hangars. With these air-dromes as near to each other as this, it will always be easy for an aviator to make a safe landing in case of engine trouble.

"While flying one-half to one mile above ground, a very modest altitude nowadays, it will be easy to glide to safety if you get stalled midway between stations."

For some time past, Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis, originator and vice-president of the Lincoln Highway association, has been working upon the details of aerial routing to meet such requirements. His findings are to be placed at the disposal

Don't forget that the Progress Bakery and the Vienna Bakery are the places which can protect the people from the "downy" bread, on account of their other stuffs by earlocks.
